Some Five Years Ago

I was thrown into personal contact with the Commandant which cavered a period of several days. During that time, withent a single effort on my part, my mind became greatly impressed with his personality and I found myself engrossed in admiration of his Christian character, his graup of details in Salvation Army warfare, and of details in Salvation Army warrars, and in great power as an administrator. The Commandant became then, in my estimation, an ideal man and Salvationist, and although since the time I speak of there has been a few storms and conflicts through which the Commandant has hed surrough which the Commandant has had to pass and play an important part in the official position antrusted to him by the General, his character and shillites as a Salvationist, organizer and leader shine brighter to me than ever. medicine. The medicine decided upon will be dependent upon the cure to be affected. What is true with individual physical disease, is also true as regards the maladies which often afflict organizations. It is so with the Salvaafflet organizations. It is no with the Salva-tion Army.

The Circle Corps scheme is a prescription which it is hoped will purve a remedy for a long-felt weakness. The problem which con-fronts every reader of these lines, is not merely whether that prescription commends itself to their particular fancy. Thet would be emere criticism on a proposed cure, without the actual acknowledgment of a great malady. The problem is something greater than this, and beyond that.

Putling the matter as briefly as possible, it is this. The Salvation Army in Canada is very is this. The Sairation Army in Canada is very much what the country is. A huge opportunity crying on the care greater population, just as there is land by the million some welling for people to come and till it; mineral weater beyond comparison lying waste for opital to develop it, and unnumbered chances calling for thirty tollers; so located in many a little place with a population of 200 or 300 souls, we have efficers, machinery, and orcapitation sufficient to shake a whole city for God. Under such circumstances, the Salvation Army cannot be said to have had a fair chance Officers so situated might be said to be very much in the position of a lion in a mense trap in the course of time, the restricting limits of their cages have in some cases exerted a taming influence ever them; their roar has become less furious, and their bite loss severe. Never-theless, how large a mofitted o have struggled ou with their eyes upwards and their hands upon the horns of the alter! Hallelulah to the Lamb! I am inclined to think that the hour of their deliverance draweth nigh.

We propose to extend the chances of these officers, to enlarge their scope, to increase the population among whom they will work, by ridening the eyes of their administration so that they may wander in and out among the doul's prey with a better prospect of "seeking"

when they may devour."

The coattered population of Ontarie has been largely at the root of the Army's difficulties in this country. That is not the fault of the Army, our is it the halt of the country. Up to the present, Canada, like the Garden of Edon, has been distinctly agricultural. Its population have lived on the land. While doing so they have thrived. Bence it is that the bulk of the people are distributed more evenly ours or tan people are distributed more evenly evan the land than perhaps in any jother coun-ity is the world. Cities approaching the teem-ing populations at the old country may be counted with ease upon the fingers of both hands. So much the better for Canada.
